

Müller - Die lila Logistik is the logistics service provider that breaks through the traditional boundaries between consultancy and implementation. Lila combines the power of thought with the power of action. Müller - Die lila Logistik develops all-round and tailor made solutions for the core industries automotive, electronics, consumer, energy and medical&pharma. A workforce of around 1,100 employees work at 16 operating sites.

The challenge

In order to achieve a clear focus on the application of logistics solution you require a partner which provides a smooth operation of site networks.

The solution

Müller - Die lila Logistik has been working in cooperation with Riedel Networks since 2005. All sites of Müller- Die lila Logistik and of its subsidiaries are interconnected via a pro-actively managed MPLS VPN by Riedel Networks and are protected by a backup concept. Mobile employees and telework stations can access the company's network via UMTS and IPsec by means of two-factor authentication using a token and a password. Internet access and e-mail are protected by an application layer firewall and internet domains of Müller - Die lila Logistik are administrated by Riedel Networks.

Advantages

- High availability and fail safe operation of the connection of the sites.
- Highest protection against attacks via the internet.
- Performance monitoring to allow an additional self-monitoring of the network via web browsers and iOS as well as Android apps.
- Investment protection, new sites can be integrated quickly and easily.

Customer feedback

"It is important to us to have a standardized WAN that can be scaled internationally unproblematically. In Riedel Networks, we have got one single point of contact for all network-related issues."

"In Riedel Networks we have a flexible partner, which responds promptly and in an uncomplicated manner to our wishes and requirements, as Riedel does not use fixed, rigidly structured working patterns, unlike the big players on the market. On a day to day basis this cooperation thrives above all on the fact that we always have direct access to our contacts who understand our business and our network."
